

Company Statement

LK Climate Control and Refrigeration specialize in commercial, retail and residential air conditioning and ventilation and commercial and retail refrigeration plant and is committed to exceeding the customer's expectation at each encounter and making all encounters a positive experience so that LK Climate Control and Refrigeration is the first name that comes to mind when customers consider their Heating Ventilation & Air Conditioning needs, be it comfort cooling, reverse cycle air source heating, close control, chillers, air handling units.

Our company mission statement is aligned with providing the best customer service in the London and South East Region and being there when you need us most. LK Climate Control and Refrigeration strives to ensure that anytime you call you will always speak to a live person. Our technicians are specially trained and have suitable experience to provide you with the most technical and informative service while we take care of your heating and cooling needs. We aim to be the one HVAC company that talks the client's language, but has the technical expertise to resolve mechanical issues with economical and innovative solutions.

Our goal is to make sure that when you need a service, repair, maintenance, design, recommendations, demonstrations or installation performed in your home or business, that LK Climate Control and Refrigeration is the first company you think of. We want every experience to be positive and memorable; from setting up the call, to being informed the technician is on his way, to the technician fixing or installing the problem fast and efficiently. And if for any reason, that experience is not a good one, we hope you let us know about it right away so that we can address the issue and better meet your needs. It takes a team of outstanding employees to make sure that our client's needs are met on a continual basis and we our clients to have peace of mind regarding the climate management of their workplace or residential property, with specific consideration for Cost effectiveness, Optimum user comfort, Environmental sustainability and Legal compliance.

LK Climate Control and Refrigeration is a locally owned, family based business registered with the Environmental Agency and Refcom. Everyone from our employees to our clients are treated as part of the LK Climate Control and Refrigeration Family. If you would like to consider us for you air conditioning and refrigeration needs, please make sure to contact us. We are competitive, friendly and above all we will be a trusted advocate to our clients, in the 'minefield' of our industry.
